Road Work Resumed.

Work on the macadam road between Fitchville and Tangle was resumed Thursday after a standstill of several days, and it is hoped by the residents of both places, as well as by the traveling public, that there will be no more stops on the construction of the road until the job is finished. For the past few years the road between the two villages has been in a very poor condition, but over a year ago work was begun on a new road, but cold weather arrived after a few hundred feet of the road had been finished and work was stopped, leaving the road in a worse condition than it was before. Work was begun this summer on the road by laborers employed by Congressman Mahan of New London, who claim to have a contract to finish the road, but First Selectman John H. Miner of Bozrah has no knowledge of the contract, if there is one, but he is watching the work closely and has several lines communicated with State Highway Commissioner Bennett in regard to the work.

No Footpath Even.

It is hoped that the road be finished before snow falls, as many who have signed petitions to have the trolley car line extended from Tangle to this village have given up all hopes of going to Norwich by trolley, but instead can be forced to Tangle and then get aboard. Last winter there was a fairly good footpath between this place and the car line, but since the work has begun on the macadam road the footpath has been taken by autos and teams and pedestrians are obliged to get out on the crushed stone upon the approach of team or auto.
